Buying My New Chromebook

Hewie Poplock • July 24, 2019

Do we get her a new Chromebook or get me a more state-of-the-art Chromebook and give Robin the Acer? My wants included some specific items that run the costs up. I want a minimum of 4GB of RAM, but desire 8GB. I want a minimum of 64GB of storage but prefer 128GB or more. I want a backlit keyboard, a touch screen, an HDMI port, some USB ports, a 13-inch screen or less, 1920×1080 screen resolution, and the screen to fold back into a tablet. Oh, and I want the price to be reasonable. Since there are no models that fit my demands, I had to search for the closest fit.

Create Flyers & Posters Quickly & Easily

Hewie Poplock • June 5, 2019

Every organization, whether it is a volunteer group or a commercial one, needs an artistic person to create flyers and posters to promote an event or the organization itself. Previously, there was at least one member of a group or a company employee who was given the task and perhaps it was their only job. Times have changed. Getting volunteers to do anything is a chore. In the business world, creativity becomes part of 1 person's job and may not be related to the rest of that person's duties. Creativity…

The Remedy for the Aches & Pains of Computing

WHAT IS A CHROMEBOOK? WHY IS IT THE PERFECT COMPUTER FOR PARENTS & GRANDPARENTS?

Simple and secure, the Chromebook makes getting things done in and out of the classroom, at work, or at home quick, easy, and affordable. Chromebooks were introduced in June 2011. In just a short time they now comprise 58% of the computers used in K-12 school classrooms. For the parent or grandparent, this relatively inexpensive computer is far easier to use than a full-

AT&T tv NOW
Last week, AT&T confirmed that they are launching AT&T TV as a live TV streaming service that seems to be targeting DIRECTV customers. AT&T also announced that DIRECTV Now will be rebranded to AT&T TV Now. This is in addition to the AT&T Watch TV service, which is a $15 a month (or free with select AT&T Wireless plans) live TV streaming service.
AT&T has five live TV services: DIRECTV, AT&T TV, AT&T TV Now, AT&T Watch TV, and U-Verse TV. This, as you would expect, has created some confusion because these services sound a lot alike.

Two downtown sites, one in the Union St. area and the other on Oriskany St. W., have been appraised at direction of Mayor McKeenan and the Common Council, and negotiations to acquire them are now under way.

Sinnott, who accepted the appointment, said:

"This is one of the most progressive moves concerning downtown Utica ever attempted. Such a program will make available more than 400 additional parking spaces in the downtown part of the city.

The small city in Northern Florida will pay US $460,000-worth of Bitcoin to hackers in order to regain control of its email systems and servers.

"I would have never dreamed this could have happened, especially in a small town like this," said Lake City mayor Stephen Witt.

Fortunately for Lake City, and its taxpayers, insurance is expected to cover all of the payment apart from US $10,000.

We've talked about creating strong passwords in multiple groovy posts [1][2][3], but we've never given you a way to test them. There are several free internet tools that offer a localized password strength test and operate in any modern web browser. Most of these tools use common cryptography algorithms to determine the likelihood of a password cracker generating an exact match for an encrypted password's translated MD5.

Despite that many online password tools will say that they do not transmit any of the data you type back to their servers, I strongly suggest that you don't use your exact real password in any online tester.
